The Sanctuary profile

If you are looking for a classically elegant home that offers comfort, relaxation and a Sanctuary from the world outside, then this is the home for you. With its limestone portico, handmade bricks and spectacular coffered entry ceiling, you get a sense of space and tranquility right from the moment you step inside.

Furthermore, with its underlying themes of practicality, flexibility and refined taste, the Sanctuary has clearly been created with busy modern families in mind. It not only provides cleverly designed spaces to accommodate extended family and guests, but also recognises the importance for 'time out' by strategically locating quiet areas away from the cooking, dining and entertaining zones.

The master bedroom, with its vaulted ceiling, spacious walk-in-robe, fabulous ensuite and powder room, is your own private Sanctuary, guaranteed to make you feel like you're living in your own retreat.

Open Saturday & Sunday 1-5pm, Monday & Wednesday 2-4.30pm

Smart Wiring

Smart Wiring is the new standard home wiring system that lets you combine phone and fax lines, with internet, computer and tv cabling. You can also add sound, audio visual, security and intelligent lighting, all at the same time. This gives you the flexibility of adding or changing your requirements in the future without expensive re-wiring costs.

This system is best installed when building a house, which is why all new Peter Stannard Homes come with Smart Wiring included.

Kitchens – More Space, Better Style

Kitchens have always been the epicenter of a home, but even more so today with programmes such as MasterChef and My Kitchen Rules highlighting the significance of a well designed space. It is therefore important to give consideration to the way you might use your kitchen, before finalising appliance, benchtop and other such decorative choices.

A well planned kitchen gives you room to move but is also compact enough to allow easy access between work spaces.

Creating a relaxed, functional yet stylish space is key to making your kitchen the heart of your new home.
